

TO THE BUSINESS LEADERSHIP OF GREATER DALLAS:

In 2009, the Dallas Regional Chamber celebrated 100 years of excellence and continued its commitment to promoting prosperity through outstanding accomplishments.

The Chamber's many influential volunteer leaders were successful with the passage of key legislation in the areas of public policy, economic development and education. The Chamber hosted memorable events including the Annual Technology Business luncheon featuring Steve Ballmer, CEO of Microsoft Corporation, and other timely events focused on the Federal Stimulus, Cap and Trade, Healthcare and Card Check, to name a few.

2009 was a challenging year for business, employment, housing and finance. Despite these challenges, our region will likely rank among the nation's best performing metro areas. This past year the DFW region saw the opening of the state-of-the-art Cowboys Stadium where national premiere sports events such as the NBA All-Star game and Super Bowl XLV will be played. In addition, the much anticipated grand opening of the AT&T Performing Arts Center occurred with media attention from around the world. Construction began on the new Convention Center hotel and construction continues on the Margaret Hunt Hill Bridge over the Trinity River. These are just a few of the changes in our area that represent positive growth and forward thinking.

2010 marks the beginning of a new decade and with a new decade comes hope and promise. As we move forward, the Chamber will continue to bring great leaders of the North Texas region together, visionaries who will help our community grow and prosper, making Dallas a destination of global proportions. The Dallas Regional Chamber has made some remarkable differences in our community over the years and will continue this momentum of positive growth in the next decade and beyond.
