

Real Estate - Industrial

Industrial space is distributed throughout the Dallas–Fort Worth region with concentrations in:

- Fort Worth’s AllianceTexas;
- Surrounding Dallas Fort Worth International Airport;
- In the southern part of Dallas County, along Interstate 20 and U.S. Highway 67;
- In suburbs including Arlington, Garland, Grand Prairie, and Coppell; and
- Along the Interstate 35E corridor between Dallas and Lewisville.

The industrial market has strengthened over the past couple years, with significant new developments throughout the region.

The majority of that construction is taking place in Southern Dallas County, Great Southwest/Arlington, and the North Fort Worth market, but new industrial centers in Denton, Hillsboro and Midlothian are becoming hot new markets for development.

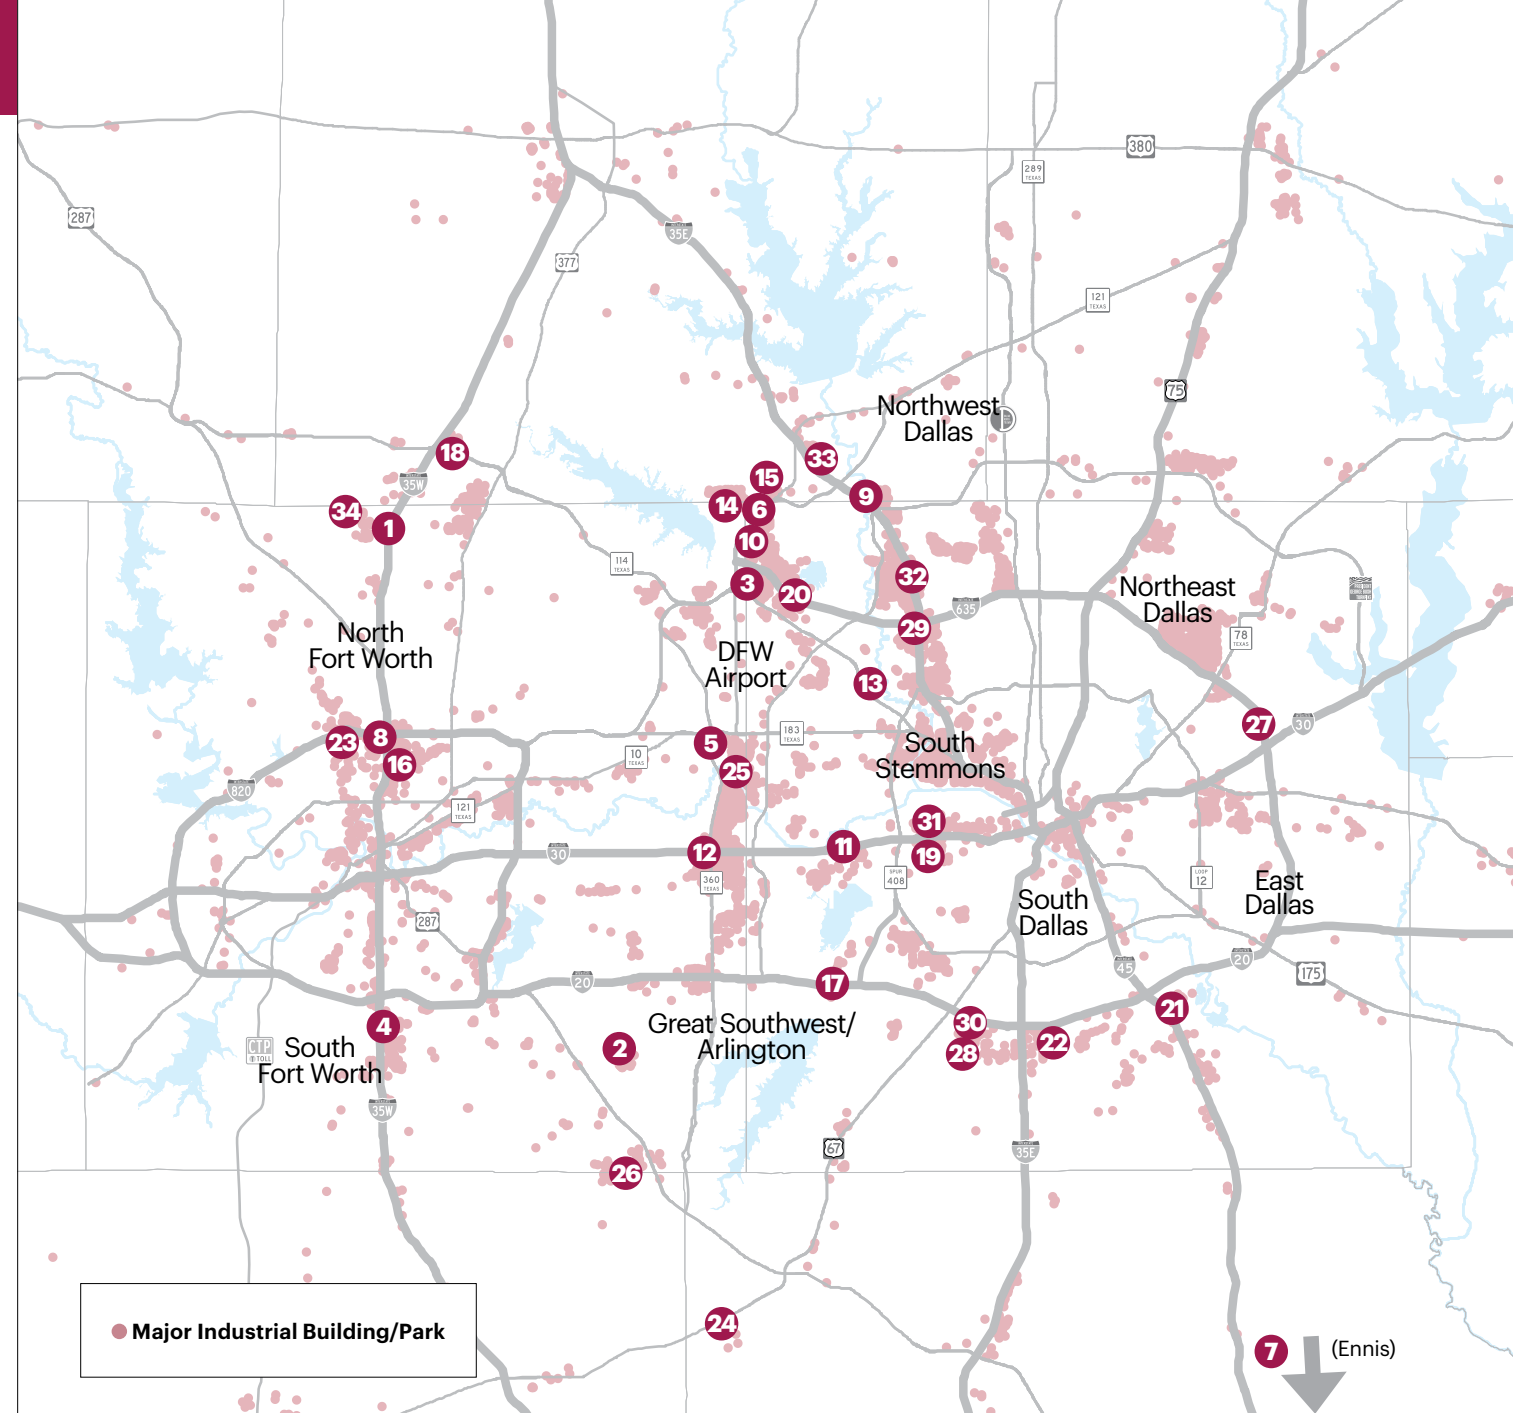

Observers credit the strength of the regional economy, as well as low taxes and labor costs, for sustaining DFW as a desirable market for real estate investment.

DFW Industrial Space: A Logistics, Distribution, and Manufacturing Hub

Dallas–Fort Worth’s central U.S. location provides an advantageous distribution hub with quick access to rail, air, and short- and long-haul truck transportation.
