North Texas Trails

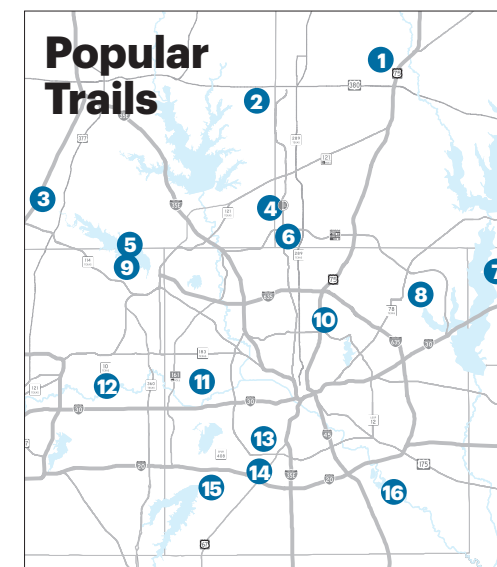

With more than 180 miles of trails, Dallas has plenty of options when you want some urban nature.

Additionally, the LOOP Dallas is an ongoing effort to connect existing and planned trails to create a contiguous 50-mile stretch around the city's core.

When you look at the whole DFW region, the number of trails is closer to 775 miles and extends through neighborhoods and areas that are less populated.

A few recommended regional trails include Cedar Ridge Preserve in South Dallas; Dogwood Canyon in Cedar Hill, which offers hilly terrain; and Oak Point Park and Nature Preserve in Plano.
